Smygehuk is Trelleborg's main visitor destination, and the southernmost tip of Sweden. Here are some local Smyge tips to spice up your visit.

 At the southernmost point, there is a barbecue area, photo spot, boat games, binoculars and a viewing platform at Sweden's southern tip – be careful not to get your feet wet!

In one of the Garnhusen houses, wherefishermen used to tend to their nets, you will find an exhibition about lime, fishing and the heyday of the Smyge shippers. There is a unique viper population at Smygehuk. It is protected by a snake fence that you will find between the lighthouse and the harbour. Be kind to the snakes, they are Climb the 17-metre-tall Smygehuk Lighthouse, and enjoy a breathtaking view of the sea and plains.

 If you get hungry during your visit, you'll find seafood at Smyge Fiskrökeri. Next door is Café Smyge with Sweden's southernmost prawn sandwich.

 Don't the eight lime kilns in Östra Torp look like Star Wars houses? The oldest lime kiln, dating from the mid-19th century, is located between the harbour and Köpmansmagasinet.

 The Smyge Kärr bog is a green oasis that is home to frogs, salamanders and the endangered natterjack toad. Nearby, you will also find a playground and dog exercise area.

Holidays and free time are great for young and old alike. Head out on an adventure with our top tips for the whole family in your back pocket.

The southern coast is famous for its lovely, sandy beaches. At Dalabadet, Gislöv, Skåre Skansar, Smygehamn and Beddingestrand, you will also find jetties to swim

If you want to swim in a pool, visit Anderslöv's open-air swimming pool, which has a 25-metre-long pool and a children's

Out of our oases, the Albäcksskogen forest is closest to town. There is a disc golf course, an adventure playground, barbecue spots, a lit trail and the MTB trails for those who don't back down from speed.

 For the youngest children aged 0-3, an adventure awaits at Trelleborg Museum. The museum's "krypspår" consists of six interactive stations designed for small children and can be found in the museum's permanent exhibitions.

 Vikings are not the only ones who enjoy the Trelleborgen Viking Fortress. The pond is home to lots of frogs that sing beautifully in summer. Be careful when you visit, the pond is their home.

 In addition to checking out boats and hanging by the jetty, the harbour in Skåre offers a snorkelling trail that takes you on adventures in the marine nature reserve. To the west of the fishing harbour, there is a playground and a viewing platform where you can watch seals and birds.

 The Stenbäcks Flygmuseum aviation museum with its aircrafts, engines and simulators is exciting for people of all ages with high-flying plans.

This is a place where people have lived for thousands of years.

History Buffs

• When the burial ground in Skateholm the eyes of the the Viking age female shaman was found, the history books had to be rewrit- - völvan. ten. No one knew that there were people as during the Old Stone Age. Visit the settlement at Skateholm and Trelleborg's Museum with the findings from the burial ground, and BBC celebrity the Skateholm Woman in the Öga mot Öga (Eye to Eye) exhibition.

 Take a trip back in time to the Trelleborg of the Vikings via the rune stone in Tullstorp, the burial ground at Albäck, and the Vannhög Viking with the filed teeth at Trelleborg's Museum. Above all – experience the town its name, and has been partially recreated on its original site. Here you find a new multimedia exhibition on the history of archaeology and the fortress, seen through Harbours and fishing harbours are, and always have been, important places. In Gislöv's harbour, there is a veteran boat jetty with historic boats built using a method that is labelled a UNESCO cultural heritage. In the harbours of Skåre and Gislöv, you'll find small fishing museums, and east of Skåre you will find Skåre Skansar – a defence structure from the 17th century.

 Klagstorp is home to the Uniform Collection, Sweden's only museum of civilian and military professional uniforms from the 20th Viking Fortress Trelleborgen, which gave the century. It also houses costumes and props from famous film and TV productions.
